

A NEW YORK CLUB DAY TRIP
Poppy Reserve & Feline Conservation Center
With Included Boxed Lunch Picnic
SUNDAY MARCH 29, 2020

We start by visiting the Antelope Valley California Poppy Reserve. Each Spring the Reserve comes alive with a variety of wildflowers creating a mosaic of color and fragrance. In addition to the poppies, we may see owl's clover, lupine, goldfield, cream cups, and coreopsis, to name a few. The wildflower bloom varies from year to year dependent on Mother Nature. Enjoy an included boxed lunch along with time at leisure in the Reserve to explore the Interpretive Center and nature trails.

Next we take a docent-guided tour of the famous Feline Conservation Center, better known as the Cat House. This breeding zoo and research facility is dedicated to the protection and preservation of the world's rare and endangered felines.

Natural habitat cages offer close-up viewing of some of the world's rarest cats including the Amur leopard, fishing cat, serval, ocelot, Eurasian lynx, Canada lynx, jaguar, snow leopard and others.
